DESCRIÇÃO

Objectives

This call aims to advance the understanding and prediction of the health of ecosystems and wild species, and their impacts on human health, using a One Health approach. The objective is to foster transdisciplinary research communities that can assess and predict ecosystem and wildlife health in the face of existing and emerging stressors, such as climate change and pollution, and to inform policy and governance for comprehensive One Health strategies. The call supports the implementation of the EU Green Deal, the EU biodiversity strategy for 2030, and international biodiversity frameworks. Eligible applicants include consortia of legal entities from EU Member States and Associated Countries, as defined in the Horizon Europe rules, with a strong emphasis on integrating social sciences and humanities to enhance societal impact.

Funding

The support is provided as a non-refundable grant in the form of a lump sum, covering up to 100% of eligible costs for Research and Innovation Actions (RIA). The total budget for the topic is €14 million, with an expected two grants of €7 million each. Funding is intended to cover all eligible project expenses as defined in the Horizon Europe rules and the specific call documentation.
