DESCRIZIONE

Objectives

This topic aims to improve the understanding of the long-term drivers, processes and impacts of soil degradation across different European and global pedo-climatic regions, contributing to the objectives of the EU Mission "A Soil Deal for Europe". Projects are expected to generate new knowledge on how historical, environmental, socio-economic and cultural factors have influenced soil health over time and how these insights can support future sustainable land management strategies.

Particular emphasis is placed on understanding the interactions between human activities, land-use change, climate pressures and soil degradation processes, while providing policymakers, land managers and other stakeholders with evidence-based tools and recommendations to support soil restoration and protection. International cooperation, including collaboration with China where relevant, is encouraged to strengthen global knowledge exchange on soil health and sustainable land management.

Funding

Funding is provided under a Horizon Europe Research and Innovation Action (RIA). The topic has an indicative budget of €7 million, with the European Commission expecting to fund one project. The expected EU contribution is around €7 million per project, although proposals requesting different amounts may be considered where appropriately justified.

The topic follows a two-stage submission procedure, with a first-stage deadline of 8 April 2027 and a full proposal deadline of 14 September 2027.

As a Horizon Europe Research and Innovation Action, projects are eligible for 100% funding of eligible costs, in accordance with Horizon Europe funding rules.
