DESCRIZIONE

Objectives

This topic aims to develop and clinically validate portable, versatile and reliable Point-of-Care diagnostic devices that provide fast and accurate results close to the patient. The action seeks to accelerate therapeutic decision-making, improve patient outcomes and provide health systems with better evidence for disease prevention and control.

Projects should address current limitations of Point-of-Care testing, including false results, complex sample preparation, insufficient sensitivity or selectivity, limited usability and difficulties in deployment in resource-constrained environments. Solutions should follow the REASSURED principles: real-time connectivity, easy and environmentally sustainable sample collection, affordability, sensitivity, specificity, user-friendliness, rapidity, robustness, limited equipment requirements and accessibility to end-users.

Funding

Funding is provided under a Horizon Europe Innovation Action (IA) . The topic has an indicative budget of €39.3 million , with approximately six projects expected to be funded. The anticipated EU contribution ranges between €5 million and €7 million per project , although proposals requesting different amounts may be considered where appropriately justified.

As an Innovation Action, the funding rate is generally up to 70% of eligible costs for for-profit entities and up to 100% for non-profit organisations , in accordance with Horizon Europe rules.
