DESCRIZIONE

Objectives

This call aims to address the security challenges arising from the green transition in urban and peri-urban areas. The objective is to identify, analyze, and mitigate new security risks associated with the deployment of innovative, sustainable technologies in these environments. The research should inform operators, first responders, and authorities on how to enhance preparedness and response to incidents involving green technologies, ultimately contributing to resilient and sustainable urban environments. Eligible applicants are consortia including at least three relevant practitioners from EU Member States or Associated Countries, representing critical infrastructure operators, authorities responsible for critical infrastructure resilience, civil protection authorities, or safety/security first responders. Research organizations, public and private entities, and other stakeholders involved in civil security and urban resilience are encouraged to participate, provided they meet the practitioner involvement requirement.

Funding

The support is provided as a non-refundable grant under the Horizon Europe Research and Innovation Actions (RIA) scheme. The funding rate is up to 100% of eligible costs. The total budget for this topic is €4 million, and only one grant is expected to be awarded, with a minimum and maximum contribution of €4 million. Costs are reimbursed as a lump sum, following Horizon Europe rules.
